
Title: Embrace Your Darkside

Author: The Damned

a blackened tome, charred by flame and stained by blood rests ominously before you

Are you unhappy with all that you survey?

Do the lush complexities of life drain away to blackened silhouette?

Do you sleep alongside the sun, and awaken with the moon?

Does your blood scream for liberation, your flesh long for immortality?

We of The Damned, those of Undead and of Daemon alike hear your pleas, we sense your calling, your will to contribute to an eternal coming, a revolution of change, a transformation of the fabric of the realm itself.

We of The Damned follow an enlightened path, unlike those of lesser races who merely seek to maim and destroy, a religion based on a lost truth, one of the true makings of our realm.
To illustrate our cause in mere words does not highlight the true euphoria of the gift we offer, the inexhaustible power that can be obtained by joining our legions. The shadows will line your fists with unholy strength, and you shall smite your enemies. The blackness shall shroud your eyes, and you shall see more then the mortal mind can imagine.

We of The Damned offer you a chance to pursue your most carnal of desires, thoughts, and actions. We offer you the chance to feel the raw power of every dream, every want, and every desire. Embrace the darkness that lies within you, and embrace us. Embrace your inner evil, and let it consume you.

(OOC: The Damned is an evil aligned roleplay guild of Daemons and Undead on the Atlantic shard. As one of the few guilds on the shard that offer the experience of playing an evil character, we offer a unique chance to take on the role of the bad guy. We run many events involving dozens of players, ranging from strictly roleplay events, to guild hunts, training sessions and competitions, alongside a friendly inter-guild atmosphere and rich history we are undoubtedly one of the premier evil organizations in all of Ultima Online.)
